

Giving students more.

Adding a little help now equals a lot more success later.

EducationMatters is a charitable trust raising money for public education enhancement programs in Calgary. Programs that are solving some tough problems. Like kids who need extra help reading - add our Family Literacy Program, and you get children eager to learn and parents able to contribute. Or take teenagers seeking a direction - add the Career Pathways Program, and you get students with a future. We're funding innovative solutions to help our kids succeed, and that's a plus for all of us. Join our growing list of supporters. Investing in students adds up now and in the future.

For more information, visit www.educationmatters.ca

EducationMatters
calgary's public education trust